GELATINE

"When in doubt, use gelatine" is a splendid slogan for summer meals, especially since food prepared with gelatine may be mixed early in the day and left in the refrigerator until needed and it adapts itself to any course of the meal. Jellied soups are a fine introduction to hot weather meals, cubes of variously flavored, gaily colored gelatines may be garnished with whole berries or cherries and served with whipped cream for dessert.

For the main course at luncheon or dinner, gelatine combines fish or meat with hard cooked eggs and any seasonable vegetables and also makes it possible to use many bits of leftovers so that they will not be recognized by the family.

As all vegetables combine well with gelatine, many interesting combinations are possible. This is a fine way to put over a vegetable that is otherwise scorned by various members of the family, as the humble carrot.

Here is a salad that is truly delicious, as well as full of vitamins. Served in individual molds and appropriately garnished, it may appear in the smartest company.

Carrot and Cabbage Salad
 1 package lemon gelatine
 1 pint boiling water
 2 tbsps. vinegar
 1 tsp. salt
 1 cup raw carrots, grated or finely chopped
 1 cup raw cabbage, finely shredded.

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water; add vinegar and salt. Chill until mixture falls from spoon in sheet. Fold in carrots and cabbage lightly. Blend. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce. Garnish with stuffed olives, or several slices of the olives may be set in the top of the mold before adding the salad itself. Serve with mayonnaise. Six to eight servings.

The Homemakers' Bureau invites you to write for any information you desire, be it a recipe, a budget, a party plan. Furthermore, if you would like to have our comprehensive leaflets on the subjects of canning, jelly-making, and pickling, simply enclose a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request to Julia Lee Wright, Safeway Homemakers' Bureau, care of Safeway Stores, Inc., Box 774, Oakland, California.

WORMS CAUSE TREE TO FALL
 GREEN BAY, Wis. (U.P.)—Worms which honeycombed the trunk of a large elm tree were blamed for its falling here. Several persons seated in automobiles or passing the spot at the time narrowly escaped injury.

Do Women Like Jealous Men?

"Devil and the Deep"

Charles Laughton, right, as Tallulah Bankhead's madly jealous husband in "Devil and the Deep," coming Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 13, 14 and 15, to the Torrance Theatre, fights desperately for her—and even then loses to Gary Cooper, left, whose sturdy independence appeals to her.

There will also be another big feature on the same program. And remember, Wednesday night is Gift Nite, and Tuesday and Thursday are "Come Together Nites," when the second adult is admitted for a nickel extra, providing you come together before 8:45 p. m.

Vaudeville, Gifts, And Double Features Offered At Torrance

Another week of unusual entertainment, and plenty of it for the money, is offered by the Torrance Theatre. In addition to giving two big super pictures at every show during the week, there will be vaudeville on the stage Saturday and Sunday, with a complete change of acts for Sunday. The vaudeville performances will be given at all shows Saturday and Sunday, including the matinees.

Gifts—Prizes
 Free gifts will be given the kiddies at the children's matinee Saturday at 1:30. Wednesday night is Gift Nite for the grown-ups, and an attractive list of valuable prizes has been arranged by Manager Klein.

Come Together
 The management at the Torrance Theatre is repeating its "Come Together Nite" offer again this week on Tuesday and Thursday. By this plan, all adult patrons who attend in pairs and come to the theatre before 8:45 p. m. are admitted to any seat for 30 cents—the regular 25-cent admission is charged one adult and a second adult is admitted for 5 cents additional. Over 300 took advantage of this "Come Together Nite" bargain offer when it was first introduced this week Tuesday, and many more are expected Tuesday and Thursday next week when the offer is to be repeated. Patrons wishing to take advantage of the "Come Together" offer are warned to come early, as the full admission prices are charged after 8:45 o'clock. A super program with two big features is given at these reduced prices.

Great Array of Race and Show Horses at Fair

Mammoth Displays, Racing Thrills, Day and Night Shows at Pomona

By C. N. P. A. Inc. Service
 POMONA, Sept. 8.—In honor of the magnificent new steel and concrete grandstand now nearly finished and the $50,000 hung up in stakes and purses, the combined showing of Riverside, Orange and Los Angeles counties fair in Pomona, September 16 to 25, will draw one of the greatest aggregations of racing and show horses ever assembled in Southern California, according to Frank Liegner, racing secretary. Already there are over 300 horses entered in the harness and running events.

Again this year there will be both day and night races, the latter being interspersed with the beautiful society horse show. As arranged, the program calls for racing every afternoon and on the nights of September 19, 22 and 25. On all of the other seven nights there will be horse shows.

Representing the foremost stables in America, the horse show entry list is a veritable "Who's Who" of equine aristocracy. The program calls for 79 different classes, and already there are over 250 entries.

Faster this year than ever before, the fair grounds track promises to see several new records hung this year, according to the wise ones who have watched the workouts.

Los Angeles county fair will present its unique million dollar livestock parade as one of the features of the closing day ceremonies on September 25. At this time the prize-winners from the entire livestock will be led past the great new grandstand while announcers will introduce them and give a brief history of the breed. In past years this has been a very popular attraction and will be more so than ever this year from the fact that there will be more entries in the livestock department than ever before.

Special Sets Used For Thrill Effects In "Doctor X" Coming to Torrance

Building menace into motion picture sets has long been a hobby with Anton Grot, a hobby which he has been able to exercise fully for the first time in the making of the First National mystery-melodrama, "Doctor X," which comes to the Torrance Theatre Sunday and Monday, with Lionel Atwill, Lee Tracy and Fay Wray heading an all star cast. This picture satisfies Grot's yearning to try his hand at thrilling audiences with interior and exterior design alone, because his company gave him a free rein in the planning of "Doctor X," which is in Technicolor.
